Numb. 195.

THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Monday, Auguſt 14. to Monday, Auguſt 21. 1732.

Lucern, May 18.

THEY write from Savoy, that a Bull has been publiſhed in the Country of Gex there, which curſes the Worms, Caterpillers, Beetles, and the reſt of the Tribe that deſtroy the Fruits of the Earth; but the Country is not one Farthing the better for it, the Farmers and others being obliged to pay the Prieſts ſuch a Conſideration for publiſhing this Bull, that they are ſure it would not quit Coſt, if it contained double the Number of Curſes.

Paris, May 31. Our laſt Advices from Madrid ſay, they reckoned the Spaniſh Fleet would be ready to put to Sea about the 8th or 10th of next Month; and they ſtill give out, that the Expedition is deſigned to retake the Fortreſs of Oran upon the Coaſt of Barbary, tho' they have lately received an Account, that the Bey of Algiers had ſent a great Detachment of Foot to reinforce that Garriſon; and that the King of Morocco was marching with the greateſt Part of his Horſe to guard the Coaſt, and to hinder the Spaniſh Troops from Landing, if they ſhould attempt it there.

The Letters from Italy aſſure us, that the Cardinal de Polignac was taken ill of the Gout juſt as he was upon the Point of ſetting out from Florence on his Return to France.

Leghorn, May 17. Our laſt Advices from Corſica ſay, That the Malcontents of that Iſland have accepted the General Pardon offered them by the Prince of Wirtemberg, in the Name and under the Guaranty of the Emperor; and in conſequence thereof, they had concluded a Sort of Suſpenſion of Arms, and given the neceſſary Hoſtages on both ſides. Theſe Advices ſay farther, that the Generals Giafferri and Ciaccaldi, Chiefs of the Malcontents, having had ſeveral Conferences with the Prince of Wirtemberg, they agreed with him to nominate Plenipotentiares to adjuſt by Treaty in a friendly Way the Differences between the Malcontents and the Republick; That thoſe Plenipotentiaries were to be, Prince Lewis of Wirtemberg on the Part of the Emperor; M. Rivarola, the new Commiſſary General of the Iſland, on the Part of the Republick; and the Generals Giafferri and Ciaccaldi on the part of the Corſicans in general; that the City of Corte ſhould be the Place of the ſaid Plenipotentiaries Meeting; that the Congreſs ſhould be opened as ſoon as poſſible; and that among other Things, the ancient Privileges of the Inhabitants of Corſica, upon the Reſtitution and Confirmation of which they inſiſt, ſhould be examined therein. They write further from Corſica, that moſt of the German Troops were marching to encamp in the Neighbourhood of Baſtia, to be at Hand to receive their Proviſions from Baſtia.

LONDON.

His MAJESTY's moſt gracious SPEECH to both Houſes of Parliament, on Thurſday the firſt Day of June, 1732.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

YOU having now diſpatched all the Publick Buſineſs, that it was practicable for you to go through with at preſent, and the Seaſon of the Year being ſo far advanced, I believe it will not be diſagreeable to you, that I give you an Opportunity of retiring into the Country, by putting an End to this Seſſion of Parliament.

It is unneceſſary for me to repreſent to you, the happy State and Situation of Publick Affairs, both at home and abroad. You muſt all be ſenſible of what is univerſally ſeen and felt, in the full Enjoyment of a general Peace. The Concurrence of the States-General in the late Treaty of Vienna, has perfected the Eſtabliſhment of the Publick Tranquility, as far as human Prudence can foreſee or provide; and a faithful Obſervance of the Treaties and Alliances now ſubſiſting among the ſeveral Princes and Powers of Europe, free from groundleſs Jealouſies, and void of all ambitious Views, will be the moſt effectual Means to continue and preſerve theſe Bleſſings to us.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I return you my Thanks for the Proviſions you have made for the Defence and Security of the Kingdom, and for carrying on the Service of the current

carrent Year. It is a great Satisfaction to me, to see you have turned your Thoughts towards raising the necessary Supplies, by such Methods, as may be the least burthensome to my People: And as this cannot but be received in the Country as a most grateful and acceptable Service, I hope it will encourage you to pursue such Measures for the future, as may on all Occasions render the Supplies that shall be necessary, as equal and easy as possible.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

It being necessary for me to visit my German Dominions this Year, I have determined to leave the QUEEN Regent here during my Absence; and I doubt not but it will be your Endeavours to make the Government as easy to Her, as, I am confident, it will be Her Care, by a just and prudent Administration, to deserve your Duty and Regard. I recommend to you all, in your several Stations, to study and consult the Preservation of the Peace and Quiet of the Kingdom.

And afterward the Lord Chancellor, by his Majesty's Command, said,

My Lords and Gentlemen,

IT is Majesty's Royal Will and Pleasure, That this Parliament be prorogued to Thursday the Twenty-seventh Day of July, to be then here held: and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Thursday the Twenty seventh Day of July next.

Extract from the Votes of the House of Commons.

Veneris 26 Die Maii. 1732.

MR. Comptroller reported to the House, that their Addresses of Yesterday (that His Majesty would be graciously pleased to give Directions to the Commissioners for Trade and Plantations to prepare a further Representation, to be laid before this House in the next Session of Parliament, of the State of his Majesty's Colonies and Plantations in America, with respect to any Laws made, Manufactures set up, and Trade carried on there, which may affect the Trade, Navigation and Manufactures of this Kingdom; and that his Majesty would be graciously pleased to give Orders, that the proper Officers do provide Copies, to be laid before this House in the next Session of Parliament, of the several Instructions, which have been given by her late Majesty, his late Majesty, and his present Majesty to the respective Governours of his Colonies in America, relating to the taking or not taking any Sums of Money by Way of Present or Salary from the Inhabitants thereof, and when, and how the same have at any Time been varied; and also what Directions have been given by any of their said Majesties for the Repair of the Forts and Fortifications of Barbadoes and the Leward Islands) had been presented to His Majesty; and that his Majesty had commanded him to acquaint this House, that He will give Directions accordingly.

London, June 7. There is lately arrived by Capt. Watt from Genoa, 50 Land Tortoises, as a Present to her Majesty; which will be disposed of in the Gardens at Kensington and Hampton Court.

London, June 10. Letters yesterday from Paris say, that the late Earl of Mar died of a Dropsy at Aix la Chapelle a few Days since, to which Place he went by the Advice of his Physicians; and that his Son the Lord Ereskine was going to be married to a German Lady, with 200000 Florins down for her Fortune, and as much more at her Mothers Death.

London, June 13. On Friday last a Tyger at Deptford, on board the Cadogan from the East Indies, broke his Chain, which obliged most of the Sailors on board to get out of his Way, the Boys being on shore that used to feed him, while he jump'd from Ship to Ship, and cleared all before him; 'till a Sawyer belonging to the King's Yard knock'd him down with a Handspike, and killed him on the Spot.

We have the following Particular of the King's Passage to Holland; that his Majesty growing uneasy at the Length of his Passage, desired on Friday last at 11 at Night, to know when he might have the Satisfaction of being landed on the Dutch Shore; to which Mr. Goodwin, Master or Pilot of the Carolina, return'd an Assurance, that with God's Assistance his Majesty might have that Satisfaction by Three a Clock the next Afternoon. When the Yatch had got within Reach of a Dutch Pilot, one of that Nation came on board, and the same Question being put to him from his Majesty, he answer'd he could not promise to land his Majesty under a two Tide's Work, or till Nine a clock on Sunday Morning; at which the King being uneasy, sent again to consult Goodwin, who still persisted, notwithstanding the Dutch Pilot's dilatory Opinion, that he should certainly (with God's Assistance) land his Majesty at the Time he had prefix'd. Thus it exactly happened, as all the Watches witnessed; and his Majesty was so well pleased with the English Pilot's Dexterity and Skill, that out of his boundless Generosity he granted him a Pension of 50 l. per Ann. during Life.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 14.

The ADDRESS of the Mayor, Recorder Aldermen and Commonalty of this City, to his Excellency W. Cosby, Esq; our Governor.

May it please your Excellency,

THE Corporation of the City of New-York attends You, to congratulate your Excellency's, your Lady's, and your Family's safe and happy Arrival in your Government, where we hope your Excellency's Administration will give you Ease and Tranquility, equal to what it promises to us.

His Majesty has ever been so exceedingly gracious to this Province, as, in giving us a Governor, to give us a Guardian of his People here, and that most tender Care of his distant Subjects, after our late much lamented Loss, he has renewed to us in your Excellency, who have been pleased to give us your Protection, before we were in a Capacity to be grateful for it. Sir,

Sir, It is an unſpeakable Comfort to us, that while you have ſucceſsfully oppoſed the Attacks of our too ambitious Friends, the Sugar Colonies, you are ſtill in a more exalted Circumſtance, placed at the Head of a Frontier People, who upon any ſudden or unexpected Rupture, may have Occaſion to ſue to your Excellency, that you would again exert that Valour, Conduct and Experience, which has ſo eminently ſignalized your Excellency as a Soldier.

Sir, As Trade is the Support of this Colony, and this City the Center of that Trade, we hope your Excellency will countenance and protect us in the Enjoyment of all our Rights and Privileges. And as we are gratefully ſenſible of your Excellency's paſt Favours, we will unanimouſly endeavour to deſerve the Continuance of them.

We are, May it pleaſe your Excellency,
SIR, Your Excellency's
Moſt obedient and moſt humble Servants.

His Excellency's ANSWER.

Gentlemen,

'I Thank you for this kind Addreſs, where-
'in you expreſs much Loyalty: There is
'nothing I can do that will be ſo pleaſing to
'his Majeſty, as endeavouring all that is in
'my Power towards the Enlarging your Trade,
'and protecting you in your juſt Rights and
'Privileges, which I will do very chearfully.

The SPEECH of his Excellency W. COSBY, Eſq; Governor of New-York, &c. to the General Aſſembly of that Colony, Aug. 10. 1732.

Gentlemen,

WHEN His Majeſty was graciouſly pleaſed to appoint me Governor of this Province, I intended to imbark early in the Spring, but upon the Application of your Agents, I quitted that Reſolution, in order to give the beſt Aſſiſtance I was able, towards the defeating the Bill then depending in Parliament in favour of the Sugar Iſlands; what Succeſs it has had, you very well know.

Gentlemen,

I am extreamly pleaſed to ſee you ſo ſoon aſſembled after my Arrival, the Seaſon of the Year and Exigence of Affairs requiring not only a ſpeedy Application, but your utmoſt Attention; and I do not in the leaſt doubt, but that you are met together determined to ſupport his Majeſty's Government, by ſettling upon him a Revenue in as full and ample a Manner, and at leaſt for as long a Time as You, or any former Aſſembly have at any Time given it; and to make ſuch Proviſion for the Maintenance of the Garriſon of Oſwego, and for the Repairs of that Place, as well as the reſt of the Garriſons, as their ruinous Condition requires; this will encourage the Soldiers to do their Duty chearfully, give the Five Nations a full Aſſurance of Protection, and make your Trade more extenſive amongſt the remote Indians, and in all Things anſwer the End to which it is deſign'd. Theſe Things, His Majeſty, the beſt of Kings, whoſe Univerſal Care of his Subjects he makes his greateſt Glory, thinks, for your own Sakes, you ſhould do, therefore expects it from this Aſſembly, of whoſe Loyalty and dutiful Affection to his Perſon and Government, he is fully ſatisfied.

Gentlemen,

I am commanded to aſſure you of his Majeſty's Protection, in your Religion and all your juſt Rights and Liberties; and of his gracious Inclination to encourage your Trade, on which the Strength and Proſperity of the Province does, in a great Meaſure, depend. If any new Laws are neceſſary for the Encouragement and Enlarging of your Trade, in any of its Branches, you may depend upon my concurring with you; and if there be any Thing wanting to make you a flouriſhing and happy People, you may be aſſured I will uſe my utmoſt Power and Intereſt to ſerve you.

W. COSBY.

PHILADELPHIA, Auguſt 21.

On Tueſday laſt, the Houſe of Repreſentatives, with their Speaker, waited on the Honourable PROPRIETARY, and preſented the following ADDRESS.

To the Honourable THOMAS PENN, Eſq; one of the Proprietors of the Province of Pennſylvania.

The humble ADDRESS of the Repreſentatives of the Freemen of the ſaid Province in General Aſſembly met.

May it pleaſe our Honourable Proprietor,

AT the ſame Time that we acknowledge the Goodneſs of divine Providence in thy Preſervation, we do moſt ſincerely congratulate Thee upon thy ſafe Arrival into the Province of Pennſylvania. Our long and ardent Deſires to ſee one of our Honourable Proprietors amongſt us, are now fulfilled, and it is with Pleaſure we can ſay thou art arrived at a Time when the Government is in perfect Tranquility, and that there ſeems to be no Emulation amongſt us, but who ſhall by a peaceable and dutiful Behaviour, give the beſt Proof of the Senſe they have of the Bleſſings derived to us under our late honourable Proprietor your Father, whoſe Goodneſs to his People, deſerves ever to be remembered with Gratitude and Affection.

Be pleaſed to accept of our beſt Wiſhes for thy Health and Proſperity, and give us Leave to ſay; as no Diſcouragements, nor any Artifices of ill Men, have hitherto been able to deter the good People of Pennſylvania, from a firm Adherence to your Honourable Family, ſo we ſhall always to the utmoſt of our Power ſupport and maintain that Government, under which we do with all Gratitude, acknowledge we enjoy ſo many valuable Privileges.

Signed by Order of the Houſe,
A. HAMILTON, Speaker.

To which our Honourable PROPRIETARY returned the following ANSWER.

I Thank the Houſe for this affectionate Addreſs; as I look upon the Intereſt of Pennſylvania and that of my Family to be inſeparable, you may aſſure your ſelves that it ſhall be my Study to purſue thoſe Meaſures which have rendered the Name and Government of my Father ſo grateful to the good People of this Province.

An Invitation having been given to our Honourable Proprietor, His Honour our Governor, and the Members of the Council, by the Houſe, they were afterwards handſomely entertained at Dinner.

The

The following congratulatory Verſes, wrote at the Arrival of our Honourable PROPRIETARY, came to hand too late to be inſerted in our laſt.

I Praiſe their Ardor, that with generous Pride
To meet your Honour either run or ride,
Yet humbly chuſe in private to ſit down
And write your Welcome to your longing Town.
Wrapt into Ecſtacy as You draw near,
With diff'rent Organs now I ſee and hear;
As once the Stone beneath the ſacred Oak, (Joſh. xxiv. 26,27.
Heard all the Words the Holy Warrior ſpoke,
I ſee the Trees with loftier Branches riſe,
And from their Hills look out with eager Eyes,
And ſeem to wiſh that they like Men could move,
To meet their Maſter and expreſs their Love:
The Mountains dance, the chearful Valleys ſing,
And Streams well pleas'd run from the lib'ral Spring.
With virtuous Pride, I hear your Rivers boaſt,
But Del'ware hopes to gain your Favour moſt,
For his good Service every Moment ſhown,
To waſh the Banks of this your riſing Town:
Schuylkil ſome Part would in your Favour claim,
And in ſome ſort his Service is the ſame;
His winding Stream, his Hills, and every Grove,
Humbly preſent their Service and their Love.
And Suſquehanna large, auguſt and fair,
Reveres your Name, and longs to ſee you there.
Potomock's northern Streams, and ev'ry Spring,
On your Approach with Acclamations ſing,
For Truth and Right they raiſe their tuneful Song,
And ſcorn all Words ſpoke in their Owner's Wrong:
They call you Lord, and while the World endures,
They will belong to none but you and yours.
Your fruitful Province, Sir, where now you ſtand,
Is vaſtly larger than your native Land;
And may cotrival That in ev'ry Part,
In Corn and Fruit, in Building, Wealth and Art;
It only waits the Work of lab'ring Time:
No Place on Earth can boaſt a nobler Clime:
The Northern Latitude is here the ſame,
With fruitful Italy, ſo loud in Fame.
Now gliding Time has half a Cent'ry fill'd,
Since your Great FATHER firſt the Place beheld,
Whoſe vaſt preſaging Mind, and Senſe profound,
Was in the Courts of Kings and Princes own'd:
He laid the Baſis, and the Scheme he drew,
Whence PEACE and PLENTY in his Country grew.

Boſton, Auguſt 7. On Saturday laſt, his Excellency arrived in good Health from the Eaſtward, in his Majeſty's Ship Scarborough, with the Gentlemen of the Government, and others that attended him on his Voyage in the ſaid Ship, and in the Sloops taken up for the Service; and was ſaluted by the Diſcharge of the Canon at Caſtle William, and the Ships in the Harbour. His Excellency's Conferences with the Indians at Falmouth, were carried on and finiſhed much to the Honour of the Government, and the general Satisfaction of the Indian Tribes, who expreſs'd themſelves much pleas'd with this Interview, and with the Preſents that were made them on this Occaſion, and ſeem to be well eſtabliſhed in the Intereſts of the Province, and more firmly attach'd to the Government than ever. His Excellency in his Progreſs viſited the Forts at St. George's River, Richmond Fort at the Mouth of Kennebeck River, Fort George at Brunſwick; and the Conference [illegible] concluded with the Indians at Falmouth, his Excellency travell'd by Land to the Garriſon at Saco River, from thence to Fort Mary at Winter Harbour; and from Richmond Fort his Excellency proceeded up Kennebeck River as far as Cuſhnock, and took a View of that Country.

Extract of a Letter from Capt. Fitche, Commander of his Majeſty's Ship Sheerneſs at Canſo, to Capt. Durell, Commander of his Majeſty's Ship Scarborough, ſtation'd for this Place, dated Canſo, July 29. 1732.

'—There are three French Men of War at Lewisburgh, 'at Cape Breton, one of 60, one of 54, and another of 36 'Guns, beſides three Frigates from 18 to 30 Guns; they 'are going to carry Jews to ſettle the Iſland of St. John's 'in the Gut of Canſo: Monſ. St. Ovide, Governor of Cape 'Breton, and ſeveral Officers are going thither from Lewis-'burgh, to ſettle the boundaries. The Indians upon the 'Coaſt between Cape Canſo and Cape Sable, complain of 'having two Indians kill'd by ſome New-England Men, 'and others wounded with Swan Shot; one of them ſhew-'ed the Maſter of a Scooner one in his Forehead; and they 'have ſworn Revenge, and would have taken it then, had 'not the Engliſh kept upon their Guard. I wiſh thoſe 'People that have done this, could be diſcovered; for it 'is ſuch Irregularities as theſe, that make them ſo much our 'Enemies.

We are inform'd by a private Letter from London, that the Guard-Ships in England are ordered to be Man'd, and to take in their Water, and their lower Tire of Guns.
